

27 Years, 17 Customer Conferences – Prof.IT

PCI Systems Limited, hosted their 17th Annual Customer Conference in May at the Coors Visitor Centre. Customers from all over the country got together for this popular event. The day took the form of various presentations throughout the morning and then workshop style breakout sessions in the afternoon.

PCI have held this type of event for nearly 20 years now and like to vary the location and content each year. Previous venues have included Warwick Castle, The National Motorcycle Centre and even Granada studios.

The event is a fantastic networking opportunity, giving customers both old and new the opportunity for sharing ideas, picking up tips and making business contacts.

Once again the feedback from attendees was very positive. Of particular interest on the day were some of the latest developments to PCI's, state of the art Windows system, Prof.IT. These included; the automated bar coded scanning of documents, enabling users to maintain a fast and efficient audit of all documents between them and their customer. Also proving popular was, PCI's flexible and secure method of accessing systems from anywhere in the world, via internet cafés, libraries etc.

PCI and their Customers are looking forward to another successful event next year!!
