

New Sales Manager for PCI Systems

PCI Systems, the Sheffield based software provider to the manufacturing and wholesaling sectors are delighted to announce the appointment of Julie Coy to the role of Company Sales Manager.

Julie joined PCI in 1997, after completing her studies in Business Information Technology at Sheffield Hallam University. She initially started as a Customer Support Officer, taking calls from PCI's users. In 2002 Julie was promoted to Customer Support Manager, assuming responsibility for all of the company's support operations.

After little more than a year Julie made the move from customer support to sales; a change that coincided with the launch of PCI's new product Prof.IT. This all new windows product had been designed for the manufacturing and wholesaling sectors, an industry that PCI had been working in since the early 1980's. The successful launch of PCI's Prof.IT applications has seen installation throughout the country, from small 4 user sites to large multi sites operations.

The experience Julie had gained during her previous support roles proved particularly useful when speaking to customers. Her understanding of the industry and its specific and peculiar practises was appreciated by all concerned.

In December 2007, Julie's focus and energy were again rewarded when she was promoted to Company Sales Manager. Julie is looking forward to continued success in selling PCI's market leading applications.
